Alfa Laval wins SEK 55 million food order in Russia

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won an order to supply a solution encompassing various pieces of equipment to a vegetable oil plant in Russia. The order, booked in the Food Technology & Life Science segment, has a value of approximately SEK 55 million and delivery is scheduled for 2017.

The order comprises the delivery of equipment such as high speed separators, heat exchangers and pumps. The Alfa Laval equipment will be used to process sunflower, rapeseed, soya bean and corn oil into refined oil and edible lecithin for further use within the farm and food industries.

"I am very happy to announce this large vegetable oil order in Russia," says Svante Karlsson, President of the Process Technology division in Alfa Laval. "The order includes a wide range of products which proves our strong position as a trustworthy supplier to the food industry."
