Tom Erixon will succeed Lars Renström from March 1, 2016

The Alfa Laval Board of Directors announced two weeks ago that Lars Renström will retire from the position as President and CEO of the Alfa Laval Group and that Lars will be succeeded by Tom Erixon, currently President and CEO of the OVAKO Group. Tom Erixon will take up the position from March 1, 2016.

“I am very pleased to welcome Tom to Alfa Laval. He has a solid industrial background with a proven track record and has the experience needed to take over after Lars and continue to develop Alfa Laval,” says Anders Narvinger, Chairman of the Board.
