Alfa Laval wins SEK 165 million pumping orders

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won two orders to supply Framo pumping systems for FPSO (Floating Production, Storage and Offloading) vessels to be built in China. The orders have a total value of approximately SEK 165 million and is booked in the Pumping Systems unit of the Marine Division, with deliveries scheduled for 2020.

The orders comprise marine pumping systems for crude oil offloading, slop and ballast duties.

“I am pleased to announce these two large orders for our Framo pumping systems. These reliable and well-proven systems are used in a variety of duties, where they provide safe operations and optimized performance,” says Sameer Kalra, President of the Marine Division.

Did you know that... Framo pumping systems are used in three main areas: cargo, oil and gas production and offshore supply and recovery?
