Alfa Laval wins SEK 100 million offshore order from Statoil

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won an order to supply Framo power generator systems to an oil platform located in the Johan Sverdrup field in the North Sea. The order, booked in the Marine & Offshore Pumping Systems segment, has a value of approximately SEK 100 million and delivery is scheduled for 2016.

The order comprises the delivery of emergency power generators to an oil platform, operated by Statoil in the Johan Sverdrup oil field in the North Sea.

“I am pleased to announce this large order for our Framo product range,” says Lars Renström, President and CEO of the Alfa Laval Group. “These reliable products meet the high demands from the oil and gas industry.”

Did you know that... Framo, acquired by Alfa Laval in 2014, has supplied emergency generator sets for offshore platforms for more than 20 years?

About Alfa Laval
