Alfa Laval wins SEK 55 million energy efficiency order in Kazakhstan

Alfa Laval – a world leader in heat transfer, centrifugal separation and fluid handling – has won an order to supply Alfa Laval Packinox heat exchangers to a refinery in Kazakhstan. The order value is approximately SEK 55 million and delivery is scheduled for 2012.

The Alfa Laval Packinox heat exchangers will be used in the catalytic processing section in the production of mixed Xylenes used for synthetic nylons, among other things.

“This order confirms the continued high activity level in the process industry”, says Lars Renström, President and CEO of the Alfa Laval Group. “It is also further proof of the Alfa Laval Packinox heat exchangers’ unmatched performance within energy efficiency.”

Did you know that... Kazakhstan is estimated to have around 30 billion barrels of crude oil reserves, which place the country as eleventh in the world?

About Alfa Laval
